

The SunInfo and the ppowers.com website Privacy Policy

SunInfo only issues one or two mailshots a year and we only keep and use email addresses of persons who have agreed, and have opted, to receive mailshots from us. We do not pass our mail list to any other party and we do not store anything other than your email address – not even your name!

If your email address is ever reported to us as discontinued we will remove its entry from our mail list.

Your name and email address are all we need to send you our mailshots - which keep you up to date with the latest news and let you know how to view all our latest articles.

- If you are interested to add your email address to our mailing list all you need to do is send us an email to yes@ppowers.com.
- If you wish to stop receiving all emails from us, simply send an email to no@ppowers.com

You do not need to include a message – or even a title!

If you notice an error in or other problem with, any of our webpages, spot a suspected copyright violation or if you have any other queries, do please e-mail us – but in the ordinary way! - at webmaster@ppowers.com and we shall be more than happy to help.
